Oil and Gas Leases

Are oil and gas companies pressuring you to sign a lease for your mineral rights?

Are they telling you to sign now?

Do you want to know your rights and what to consider before signing a lease?

Do you want resources for information and help?

Then Keep Reading

- Recognize a high-pressure pitch when you hear one. Oil and gas companies can put whatever they want in a lease, and it's up to you to protect your own rights by thoroughly reading the lease. Do not sign Anything you do not feel comfortable with.
- Visit the MSU Extension website at msue.anr.msu.edu/program/info/oil_and_gas for valuable information on oil and Gas leasing tips to follow before signing a lease.
- Consider talking with an attorney who has knowledge and experience in agriculture and oil and gas leasing
